

Open position as Region Security Manager Germany

Employer: worldwide Group

Work location: Frankfurt

Job Description:

The Head of Security Germany is responsible for developing and implementing the overall security strategies for the company in the area, in coordination with Central Group Security.

He will look after different security related aspects, including Country Security Intelligence, Physical Security, Logistical Security, Executive Protection, Travel Security, Incident Management, Fraud Investigation, Due Diligence, Security Training and Threat and Risk Assessments concerning the production factory, offices, warehouses and Headquarter, as well as all business operation processes in Germany and the Scandinavians countries.

Qualifications and requirements:

Nationality: priority shall be given to candidates from local area and country. Nevertheless, skilled candidates that had experience in other areas will be considered as well.

Security experience within a corporate environment: FMCG companies, retail or industrial companies preferred.

University degree in law, criminology or international relationship is a major plus.

Proven Military and/or Police background or Experience in Consulate/Embassy are also a plus but not mandatory (CVs must be descriptive of roles, duties, and rank during the time served).

Foreign languages: German and fluent English are mandatory. Candidate is required to keep constant quality communication/interaction with the HQ Security Operation Center, as well as all other Security Offices globally.

Management skills: we require well-developed Business related and People management expertise obtained through experiences in managing and leading security operations. This includes budget management, conflict management, communication and decision making skills. Standard computer knowledge including Microsoft Office.

Availability to relocate and travel: For business purposes, the Security Manager is required to travel inside and outside of Germany.

Please send your application to: info@ies-eliteservices.com